LEVEL I Energizer Retreats

Fun & Relationship/Team Building:

Building positive relationships through fun team play activities and challenges typically contained in a conference room. Light debriefs of activities that link to team challenges. Examples Include: In class/room cerebral challenges. Activities with limited physical challenge components but are typically limited to space requirements and size of group.

LEVEL II Experiential Discovery - Playful Learning/Team Building:

More robust activities and challenges that may need larger indoor space or could be planned for out doors (these can occur in any season). Examples: Incorporated Level I challenges and team building with more physical challenges that require both traditional classroom time and space and that include larger spaces to accommodate some more physical challenges. Some of these may occur outdoors. (Archery, paintball, slack line, low ropes challenges)

LEVEL III Experiential Discovery - Playful Learning/Team Building:

Add Level II type activities with extreme activities and challenges that require larger indoor space and out door space (these can occur in any season). Examples: Experiential educational challenges can include Levels I and II and are geared toward a combination of cerebral and physical outdoor adventures. (Traversing, 2-way GPS orienteering, build a plane, rocket launcher or similar, mountain biking, backpacking, camping, snow shoeing, white river rafting, climbing, urban road rally (jeeps, snowmobiles or ATVs)).

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY SERIES: Experiential Discovery - Playful Learning/Team Building:

We also have communication and team building activities with purpose that include serving the community or deserving non-profit organizations or government agencies.

Transformation and change come in many ‘flavors’. When teams step outside of themselves and help others in need, they experience team building while being a catalyst for helping others while making a community impact.

Examples: Volunteering, Building Projects, Food Drive Mini-Golf, Bicycle building, Spic-&-Span Competitions, Outreach In Action, Playground Overhaul, Trees, Trails & Trash, Build prosthetic hands as a team
